REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Amherst:

I herewith submit my ninth annual report, which is also the twenty-first in the series of such reports.

Organization of Supervisory Union No. 40

There has been no change in this Union from last year. By referring to page 53 of last year's report, a full description will be found.

Teachers

Greeley: Miss Helen M. Berry of Center Barnstead, New Hampshire, replaces Miss Lillian Richardson. North or No. 8: Miss Margaret Lorden of Milford, a graduate of Keene Normal School, replaces Miss Henry. Village: Miss Mary A. Tingley of Milltown, Maine, replaces Miss Durgin, who after three years of faithful and efficient service is now teaching in Stoneham. Miss Scott, Miss Gogan, Miss Boutelle, Miss Jenkins, Miss Swett, Miss Piper, and Mr. Morgan fill the same positions as last year.

Enrollment

The size of rural schools is very likely to vary from year to year. Just now Ponemah and North are small, Cricket Corner and Greeley fairly large, and Border Street of average size. There seems to be a desire on the part of some parents and children to have VII and VIII grade children attend at the village school: accordingly this results in there being no VII and VIII grades at Border Street, Cricket Corner, and Greeley Schools. The increase in numbers, thereby, at the village building is a benefit both to teachers and pupils as classes are larger and interest and competition greater. This will work very satisfactorily until village classes become overcrowded, which is not likely at the present rate of growth. For enrollment totals see tables which follow.

Buildings

Several years have elapsed since a description of school property has been presented. This report will attempt to explain briefly the entire school plant. The village school, a two story brick building, has been improved by the addition of the south and east covered porches, which allow for proper entrances and exits to meet the laws of the state governing public buildings, also running water and flush toilets are in operation. The building has been recently painted inside and out and electric lights are in all rooms. The upper floor, seating grades VII and VIII and the High School, is divided into a large main room and two smaller or recitation rooms. The lower floor contains a primary room for I, II, III, and intermediate room for IV, V, VI, the new toilet rooms, a small stock room, a science laboratory, and coat rooms. A basement under the whole building houses the steam plant, with ample storage room for fuel and other things. All classrooms are equipped with slate blackboards.

Border Street School: This is a comparatively new building. The lighting is good in quantity and direction. Chemical toilets are in satisfactory operation. The common boxed stove is used for heat. This might very easily be replaced by a one-pipe furnace as there is a cellar under the entire building. Slate blackboards are used.

Cricket Corner School: This is an old building which has been remodeled from time to time, final alterations of which have been made this last summer, whereby a small cellar was dug, a one-pipe furnace set up, chemical toilets installed, windows changed so as to be from left and rear only, and better ventilation provided. These recent improvements were in part due to the interest of the people near the school who gave their services in digging the cellar. The expense of these alterations has more than used the money provided for such work and a special appropriation will be asked for this year to cover the cost.

Greeley School: This is an old building which has been remodeled, final alterations being made in 1925. Conditions at this school are unfavorable to good lighting due to the nearness of wooded areas. Satisfactory results have been obtained by making the east and north sides practically all windows. A dummy partition, extending north and south across the west side of the room, provides a coat room, shelves for lunch boxes on one side, with blackboard area on the room side. Coats and lunches are thus kept warm and blackboards brought nearer to the pupils and windows. This particular device is very efficient in making over old buildings to meet modern scientific conditions. An unjacketed box stove provides heat though not as well as a regular school room heater would do. The absence of a cellar precludes the one-pipe furnace. Toilets are of the old style, with their many objections. Now that chemical toilets for schools have been given a good trial in two of our buildings, the installation of such in this school would be a decided improvement. Slate blackboards are used in this building also.

North or No. 8 School: This building is the only used rural school not remodeled. A very small enrollment and the fact that it is not likely to increase does not warrant the expenditure of any great amount of money. The feasibility and possibility of closing this school arises each year.

Ponemah School: This school house was built over in 1920 and now has left and rear light, dummy partitions with cloak room, jacketed stove, inside toilets—although not chemical toilets—and slate blackboards.

Unused Buildings: School houses on Christian Hill, Chestnut Hill, Pond Parish, and No. 6 have been kept shingled but in all cases the equipment has been removed. Deterioration of unused buildings is rapid and these school houses are no exceptions. To be used again for school purposes extensive repairs would be needed to comply with modern standards of heating, lighting, toilets, and ventilation. This is why it might be wise to dispose of such buildings rather than be under the burden of repairs and insurance.

National Education Association and Professional Improvement

There are many ways in which school men and school women may improve themselves as professional workers. Some of these are almost automatically provided for them. Others they must seek themselves. By the former reference is made to teachers' institutes which are conducted throughout New Hampshire each year by the State Board of Education, and to conventions, which are meetings of professional organizations. Teachers have a right by law to attend institutes and with almost no exceptions are permitted by School Boards to attend conventions. At these meetings two kinds of programs are usually offered. First, general and inspirational talks by prominent worthwhile speakers, and, second, what are commonly called sectional meetings at which various subjects of school studies and methods of teaching the same are considered. One of the noteworthy and important meetings to be held in this part of the country recently is that of the Department of Superintendence of the National Education Association held at Boston, February 25 to March 1, 1928. The foremost educators of the country, leaders in their several special branches, appeared on the program, the general theme of which was the work of the secondary school. An important and interesting feature of the meeting was the elaborate exhibit of school books, supplies, and devices and the demonstration of school work by groups of school pupils. In order that every teacher in this Union might be able to attend this meeting the February vacation was fixed so that no school would be in session at any time during the week's meeting. Many of the teachers in this Union availed themselves of this rare opportunity.

Conclusion

In conclusion the following things should be mentioned as needing early attention:

1. Better ventilation of buildings especially the village school rooms and toilet rooms. This is important.
2. Chemical toilets for Greeley and Ponemah schools.
3. Better heaters for rural buildings not already equipped with improved devices.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD C. BALES.

REPORT OF HEADMASTER OF HIGH SCHOOL

To the Superintendent of Schools, Amherst, N. H.:

I hereby submit my second annual report.

On September 7, 1927, school opened with a total of fifty-seven pupils. Of this number twenty-seven enrolled in grades seven and eight. The remainder were in grades nine to twelve inclusive. At the present time there are twenty-seven in the lower two grades and twenty-nine in the High School.

As the room had seating facilities for only fifty-six pupils it was necessary to add an extra row of seats. The difficulty was removed and there is space available still for another group as large as the increase of this year over last year.

Attendance and Graduates

Although the attendance record has not been as good as last year it is commendable. In all but a few cases pupils have shown a real desire to make our record as good as that of any other school in the state.

The graduating class promises to be as large as that of last year. We are hoping that there will be seven to receive diplomas in June.

Of those who graduated in June, 1927, one hundred per cent went on to take up work in institutions of higher learning.

Of the girls, Agnes Gaidmore, Florence Hayward and Phyllis Raymond are attending Nashua Business College. Thelma Hare attends Normal School in Georgia.

Of the boys, Charles Howard and Theodore Richards are attending Dartmouth College and Northeastern University respectively. Robert Odell attends business college in Manchester.

It is doubtful if there are many other classes in New England that have such good records.

Program of Study.

Amherst High School is operating on an approved four year program of study. For the convenience of those interested, the program for 1927-1928 and 1928-1929 is listed below:

There are two curricula offered in the school: Classical and English, the subjects of which are shown below.

First Year Classical Curriculum: English, Latin, Algebra, and History of Civilization.

First Year English Curriculum: English, Bookkeeping, Arithmetic, Algebra, and History of Civilization.

Second Year Classical Curriculum: English, Latin, French, in 1927-1928 Geometry or Bookkeeping and Arithmetic, in 1928-1929 Geometry or Commercial Geography and History.

Second Year English Curriculum: English, French, Geometry, and in 1927-1928 Bookkeeping and Arithmetic, in 1928-1929 Commercial Geography and History.

Third Year Classical Curriculum: English, French, Latin, and in 1927-1928 Chemistry or Modern European History, in 1928-1929 United States Constitutional History.

Third Year English Curriculum: English, French, in 1927-1928 Modern European History, in 1928-1929 United States Constitutional History, and in 1927-1928 Chemistry, in 1928-1929 Economics and Sociology.

Fourth Year Classical Curriculum: English, French, Latin, in 1927-1928 Chemistry or Modern European History, in 1928-1929 United States Constitutional History.

Fourth Year English Curriculum: English, French, in 1927-1928 Chemistry and Modern European History, in 1928-1929 United States Constitutional History, and Economics and Sociology.

Teachers

From September, 1927, to January, 1928, Miss Bertha Piper taught classes in history, Latin, geography and arithmetic. The total of classes being 6 3-5 per day. The fraction is obtained through the fact that the geography class meets but three times per week. At Christmas time Miss Piper was forced to undergo a serious operation which prevented her from returning to school when the new year opened. Miss Helen M. MacGowan, of Greenfield, Mass., a third year student at Keene Normal School, has very capably substituted for Miss Piper since that time. Miss Piper is expected back about April 1.

Miss Catherine Swett is with us the second year teaching French and English, a total of six classes per day.

The Headmaster teaches classes in mathematics, the sciences, and history—a total of 6 2-5 classes per day. The fraction is obtained through the fact that the general science class meets but two days each week.

Development of Health and Character

In the Headmaster's report for 1926-1927 may be found a discussion of physical development through the use of volley ball, football and basketball, also the use of a twenty minute period for drills in arithmetic, spelling, geography, music appreciation, Friday reports by pupils, and talks on hygiene, personal conduct, current events, thrift, conservation of forests, cleanliness, fair play, and toleration. Such work has been continued this year with good results.

Special Activities

Fire drills have been rehearsed until each pupil knows how to leave any room in which he may find himself without causing confusion. One afternoon in late fall a member of the school board turned in the fire alarm. In a very short time the building was emptied. In a space of two minutes the pupils leave the building, return and are at work.

Early in the school year the pupils asked that the old Athletic Association be done away with and an organization be introduced that would also provide work of interest for pupils not interested in athletics. A meeting of the pupils was held in which it was resolved to organize an association with a three-fold purpose. The purpose was to give opportunity for pupils to take part in dramatics through the presentation of entertainments and plays, to give others opportunity to express themselves through some sort of school publication, and to give still others opportunity to take part in organized athletics.

The organization was called The Amherst High School Triple Entente Association. The title is not clearly indicative of the character of the association since grades seven and eight, although not a part of the high school, enjoy full membership privileges. Each pupil is a voting member of all three clubs. However, the committees and officers of each club are chosen from those pupils who express themselves as interested in one particular club more than the others. Thus the officers and committees of each club are selected from a group of approximately twenty while all the pupils in the school are voters in each club.

The association meets on Wednesday from 1.00 to 1.25 P. M. which is the regular daily period for special work. Time is given to the business of each club and a staff of officers conduct the central meeting. All funds are kept in one treasury. The value of these clubs lies chiefly in character and citizenship development. The meetings are conducted according to formal Parliamentary Law. Pupils are given an opportunity to express themselves in debate and to exercise initiative in carrying out the business of the association.

Only as the pupils participate in the work of the association will it be of value to them. Thus far the interest in the clubs has been high. The Dramatic Club has presented a Christmas entertainment and one play. Another is to be given before the end of the year. The Dramatic Club trained the entrants for the Prize Speaking Contest held under the auspices of Souhegan Grange. The first prize of ten dollars was awarded to Kathleen Hodgson, second and third prizes of six and four dollars went to Ridgway McArthur and Hester Small respectively, and each of the other five contestants received one dollar.

The officers of the Literary Club are at work gathering material for a school paper to be issued at graduation. The Athletic Club has organized two basketball teams. Several games have been played and several more are scheduled. The inexperienced girls' team have met with several reverses and one victory to date. The more experienced boys' team has won about one half of its games. But victory is not the important goal in athletics. It is true that it makes for greater school spirit and for greater interest in the school by the parents. However, the real object is to develop strong, graceful boys and girls, to give them a physique in which muscular coordination will be outstanding all the days of their lives. Organized athletics provides opportunity for the building of character. Boys and girls who are taught to play the game fairly, to be modest in victory, to be cheerful in defeat, and to obey the rules, cannot help but to make better citizens in the days to come.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSE

To Mr. Harold C. Bales, Superintendent of Schools :

The following is the report of the health work in Amherst schools, it being the tenth year of this work.

The usual medical inspection was carried on this fall by Dr. Oscar Burns, the nurse assisting. Dr. Burns' report gives a tabulated account of the physical defects.

This year, due to the amount of work in other nursing activities, the examination of eyes and ears has been completed very successfully by the teachers, each home room teacher being responsible for those under her supervision. The report on the above shows that there are thirty-seven children with defective vision and five with defective hearing.

Health teaching and general inspection for cleanliness have been conducted throughout the schools. In the rural schools especially, health rules are learned and health talks have been given.

Thus far there have been no serious outbreaks of contagious diseases, although a few cases of chicken-pox have been reported in the Center school.

It is hoped that much can be accomplished in the correction of physical defects. This can be done, however, only with the earnest cooperation of parents with the teachers and school nurse.

Respectfully submitted,

EMMA L. SMITH, R. N.
